

Labor And The Specialty Contractor

*Wednesday, April 7, 11:00 a.m.-2 p.m.
$60 per member; $85 per non-member
DePaul University O'Hare Campus
3166 South River Road, Des Plaines*

Take a Moment to Ponder:

What is the relationship between the Builders Association and Mid-America Regional Bargaining Association?

Who is representing your Specialty Contractor interests with the labor unions?

What is your unfunded pension liability?

Get answers to the questions above and find out what benefit participation in the Builders Association's labor activities can bring to specialty contractors. An hour-long buffet lunch and networking session will begin at 11 a.m. The program includes:

The Impact Of Subcontracting Clauses On Union Construction

Steve Adelman, Locke Lord Bissell & Liddell, LLP

Learn why subcontractor clauses need to be addressed at the earliest stages of a project in order to avoid or alleviate litigation later on. A real life case example will be used to illustrate this point, followed by a question-and-answer session.

Unfunded/Underfunded Liability In Pension Funds

Ben Johnston, James McHugh Construction Company

Pat Wilharm, McShane Construction Company

As a specialty contractor, are you aware of the status of trade pension funds and how they can adversely impact your finances? Two expert Builders Association Labor Committee members will provide a pension environmental scan and explain the potential negative impact their status has to you as an employer.

Builders Association Labor Committee 101 for Specialty Contractors

Phil Diekemper, Ceco Concrete Construction

Ben Johnston, James McHugh Construction Company

R. Lynn Treat, Ryan Companies US, Inc.

Pat Wilharm, McShane Construction Company

This session will provide essential information related to the Builders Association's Labor Committee and its efforts on behalf of specialty contractors. Learn more about the Association's labor initiatives from members of the Labor Committee.
